

Board Votes Enrollment Ceilings in Classrooms

School principals in Torrance have been given the authority to refuse new students if class sizes exceed 34 students.

The action followed a request for an enrollment ceiling at Calle Mayor School which was submitted to the Board of Education Monday. Current enrollment now exceeds the school's capacity and all available facilities have been pressed into service for classrooms. Dr. J. H. Hull had asked the board to establish an enrollment ceiling of 644 students.

THE GENERAL policy was approved after several board members balked at the idea of establishing an arbitrary ceiling at one school. It was proposed by Bert Lynn after trustees discarded the idea of moving some of the district's portable classrooms to the school—a plan that officials said would accomplish nothing.

Principals will be permitted to refuse new pupils where there are other schools within walking distance with available classroom space. The policy will remain in effect for the rest of the current year.

Fleming, White Musicians To Participate in Festival

More than 300 junior and senior high school students from Los Angeles City schools will perform in the 13th annual Los Angeles City Schools Chamber Music Festival Saturday at San Fernando Valley State College.

The festival is an all-day program which will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

Students will participate in 91 chamber music groups representing 32 schools in the city. The program is co-sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Southern California Gas Co.

Each of the music groups will be rated by a panel of nationally known musicians. Judges will then discuss the performances with the students.

Students from Fleming Junior High School who will participate include Pamela Ellis, Keith Gibson, Lucinda Glancy, Sharon Glancy, Nancy Paine, and Marilyn Walker.

Members of the Torrance Board of Education voted to join the Southern California Industry-Educational Council Monday evening. The district was one of the founders of the council, but has not belonged in recent years.

superintendent of schools for special services, gave the trustees his first prediction of next year's enrollment and school loading analysis—a set of figures which is enshrined in its own dark cloud.

DR. KAPLAN predicted an enrollment of 33,564. That figure alone means little until an analysis of where the students will be living is made. The analysis, Dr. Kaplan said, shows that several schools—including Calle Mayor, Adams, Hickory, and Victor—will have a critical shortage of space.

After examining the figures, trustee Albert Charles asked Dr. Kaplan and S. E. Waldrip, assistant superintendent for business, to submit a "concrete recommendation" on where building programs should be started. Charles suggested that money be borrowed from the general fund to finance construction where the need is critical.

Dr. Kaplan did warn the board not to move too fast. He said a new set of figures, based on enrollments in March, will be submitted. "They will be more accurate," he concluded.
